How to Write an RESEARCH ABSTRACT

NOV 29 | 2:30-3:30 PM | LSU 326 & 327

Facilitated by Professor Monique Turner, Department of Psychology

The abstract submission deadline for the 2023 Student Research Conference is just around the corner (December 9th)! Join the Office of Undergraduate Research for a workshop on how to sell your work by properly writing a well-developed abstract for any research paper! Be prepared to learn and understand what an abstract is, its relevance and importance, the basic content and structure, and the importance of following guidelines for research publications and conference presentations.

Feel free to bring a hardcopy of your abstract draft!
