

PART 1:

Navigating Different Types of Research Settings as a Student Researcher

TUES
MAR 26
2:30-3:30 PM

Register
& Join
Here

With Dr. Monique Turner,
Department of Psychology

Students will learn how conducting research can be a different experience given the content, laboratory, natural environment, hospitals, crisis centers, and prisons. There are specific skills that one can develop in each setting that can help one to navigate each setting more effectively, some may overlap with others and some settings may require unique skills and strategies. Ethical considerations will also be discussed.

CSUDH

OFFICE OF UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH