
Time Interval for the Review of Administrative Positions

The Board of Trustees action of last summer requiring the review of those in administrative positions and the review of tenured faculty was dealt with on this campus in earlier months by the Academic Senate, addressing only the matter of the evaluation of tenured faculty. The process of addressing the review of those in administrative positions was not necessary inasmuch as procedures had earlier been established here at Dominguez Hills.

Now that the procedures for the evaluation of tenured faculty are established it would seem appropriate to bring the procedures for the review of those in administrative positions into congruence. Thus I am changing the policy set forth in PM 79-03 (dated February 1, 1979) and entitled "The Review of Administrative Positions" and defining the time interval for the review of those in administrative positions to be "at intervals not to exceed five years." This will be exactly congruent with the evaluation of tenured faculty.

Our present campus policy calls for a calendar of periodic reviews to be established and updated annually prior to September 1. This will be done prior to September 1, 1981, thus carrying out the new time cycle.
