Meanwhile, the church has had substitute preachers. After acceptance, the new pastor will probably arrange to be here by Dec. 1.

Background Rev. Schulz has had a wide and varied experience. He was born in Los Angeles in 1930, spent his childhood in El Monte, Cal., where he attended high school. "He had been standing on a limb sawing another one off with an aluminum half-moon saw," said Mr. Bartman. "When the limb fell, the saw did too; he let go of it and grabbed the limb he was standing on, and put one leg on a rung of an aluminum ladder."

top line and the handle was lying on the limb. It burned the bottom of the aluminum ladder right off, and he was cooking," Mr. Bartman Mr. Bartman said that his son fetched a bamboo pole and that he, himself, went with it up a smaller ladder-"I guess it was wood, I was just thinking about getting that poor cuss off; the juice was in the tree and I could feel it running through The Bartmans then, with the help of Town Police who had arrived at the scene, used a rope looped around the limb and lashed under Mr. Durka's arms to lower him to the ground.

"Only Later" Mr. Bartman said that, later, he "got shaky" when he reflected on what he had done. "You don't think about anything at the time," he said, "only later."

The East Hampton ambulance took Mr. Durka to Southampton Hospital, with severe burns on both hands, arms, and legs. The Hospital said yesterday that he was in "satisfactory" condition.
